3.0 TOOLBOX

This section is on the left hand side underneath My Profile.

This section gives you access to a variety of tools you can use to communicate with other members of MyCOOConnect.

3.1 Networks: Create a Network

You will want to create networks of members to share information about or discuss a particular topic. This tool enables you to create groups of this kind. You can name it, describe its function, upload a logo, select who to invite to join it, and control whether any member can join, or whether any member can apply to join, or whether membership is by invitation only.

1. Click on Create a network. This takes you to a page like the one below

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the 'Create a Network' page. The page has a purple header with the title 'Create a Network'. Below the header, there are several sections:

- Network Name*: A text input field.
- Network Description: A large text area with a 'Character limit: 1000' note.
- Access: Three radio button options:
  - ☒ Public (Open Access) Network: COO Connect members may join the network without the approval of the creator. The existence of the network will be advertised to all COO Connect members.
  - ☐ Public (Request to Join) Network: The existence of the network will be advertised to all COO Connect members. Members who wish to join the group must apply to the creator for membership. All applications for membership are subject to the approval of the network creator.
  - ☐ Private Network: The network will not be advertised to COO Connect members at all. Membership of the network will be at the invitation of the creator only.
- Logo: A text input field, a 'Browse...' button, and a 'Save Logo' button. A note says 'Maximum Image Size: 235px x 80px'.
- Web Address: A text input field.
- Members: A 'Search Members' input field and a list of members with checkboxes:
  - ☐ Adam Alm
  - ☐ Charles Gubert
  - ☐ Christine Buffet
  - ☐ Dominic Hobson
  - ☐ James Blanche
  - ☐ Jeremy Siegel
  - ☐ It's not Adam Schiller
- Agreement*: A checkbox and the text 'I confirm that I have read and accepted the Terms of Service.'

At the bottom, there are two buttons: 'Create a Network' and 'Cancel'.

2. Type in the name of your proposed network in Network Name.
3. Write a description of the purpose and goals and the network in Network Description.
4. You should then select one of three types of network :
  - Public (Open Access) Networks. Once you create this kind of network, all other members can join your network without permission from you. The network will be advertised to all members under the Network tab on the tool bar, where they simply click on the Join button in the list of open networks.

- Public (Request to join) Networks. Once you create this kind of network, all other members can apply to join your network, through the Networks tab on the tool bar, where there is a Request to join networks tab. You can accept (Confirm) or refuse (Reject) membership applications by using that tab to reply.
- Private networks. Once you create this kind of network, membership is restricted to members that you invite to join the network only. Your invitation will appear on their version of the Networks tab, where there is an Invitation to join network tab. They can accept (Confirm) your invitation to join by using that tab, or refuse it (Reject).

Messages showing acceptances (Confirm) and refusals (Reject) will appear in My Updates on the home page of MyCOOConnect. The same messages are also sent to whatever e-mail address you gave in My Profile.

You can upload a Logo for any group by clicking on Choose file. The logo will then appear. There is a limitation on the size of the logo of 235x80 pixels. The logo will appear in the list of networks under the Networks tab on the tool bar.

If your network has a dedicated web site, write its address in the box labeled Web address.

You can search for potential members from the list of members of MyCOOConnect that have agreed to disclose their identities by using the Search box. The names also appear in alphabetical order under the Search box, where you can select them. Any names you select will be sent an invitation to join your network. They will receive the invitation in the Invitation to join network tab under Networks.

Members who establish groups which make use of MyCOOConnect are expected to abide by certain terms and conditions under which the services are provided. Click that you have read the Terms of Service under Agreement.

Click Create a Network.

6. You can also upload documents relevant to this contact, such as their contract of employment or contract of business with you, or their curriculum vitae. Select the option Upload for storage on COOConnect servers, and then use select Choose file to use the browser to find the relevant file in the folders on your PC or laptop. When you have finished, select Save & Close. This takes you back to the homepage of MyCOOConnect. Alternatively, select Save & Add Another to complete details of a second contact.

3.8 Documents: Manage Documents

You can use My COOConnect as a set of document management tools as well, both for your own purposes and to share them with particular members of MyCOOConnect—for example, members of a group you have formed to discuss or progress a particular issue. To access the tools click on Manage Documents. A page like the one below will appear.

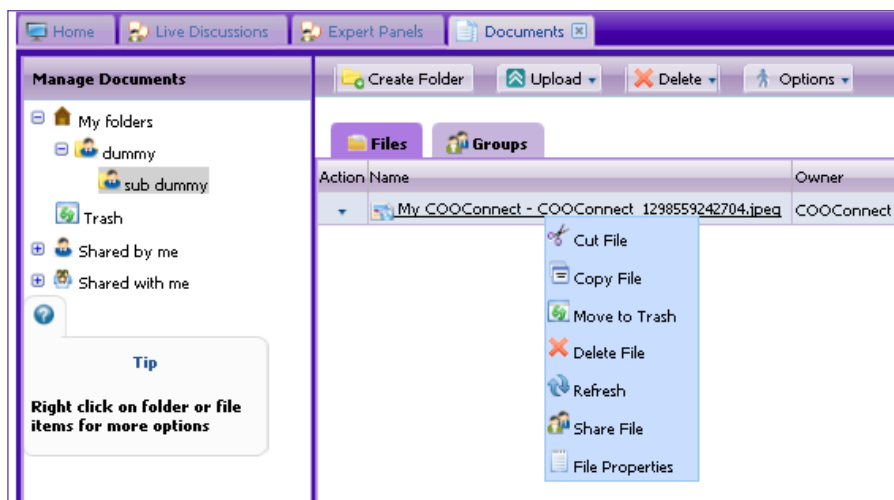

1. If you wish to file your documents in a folder, click on Create Folder. The box below appears.

2. Write the name of the new folder in the white space to the right of the word Name and press Create. The name of the folder appears on the top left hand side of the screen under Manage Documents.
3. Notice that the name of the parent folder appears within the box against the word Parent. This is important because it always tells you what folder you are creating the new folder in. Since you can also create sub-folders within a folder, and sub-sub-folders within a sub-folder, the Parent tag is your means of organizing your files in folders, sub-folders, sub-sub folders, sub-sub-sub-folders, and so on.
4. To create a sub-folder within a folder, select a folder from the list of folders underneath Manage Documents. Then select New Folder from the tool bar. The box which appears will specify the name of the folder into which the sub-folder will be placed against the word Parent. The name of the sub-folder will appear automatically on the left hand side of the screen underneath the name of the folder.
5. To create a sub-sub-folder, select a sub-folder from the list of folders underneath Manage Documents. Then select New Folder from the tool bar. The box which appears will specify the name of the sub-folder into which the sub-sub-folder will be placed against the word Parent. The name of the sub-sub-folder will appear automatically on the left hand side underneath the name of the folder.
6. This process can be repeated to create sub-sub-sub folders, and so on.
7. Notice that to the left of the name of each folder under Manage Documents is a plus sign (+) or a minus sign (-). Clicking on the plus sign (+) opens the list of sub-folders and sub-sub-folders. Clicking on the minus (-) sign closes them.
8. The Trash option will display documents you have moved to the trash by using the Move to Trash option under Options on the toolbar or by right clicking on a file and selecting Move to Trash.

9. The Shared by me option contains files you have chosen to share with other members of MyCOOConnect by using the Share File function under the Action tab that appears to the left of the title of every file in every folder you have created or by clicking on the Options tab on the toolbar.
10. The Shared with me option contains files that other members of MyCOOConnect.com have chosen to share with you, also by using the Action tab that appears to the left of the title of every file in every folder or the Options tab on the toolbar.
11. To share a file, select Shared by me, using the plus sign (+) if necessary to open the right folder, then click on Action, which sits immediately to the left of the file name, to bring up a drop down menu like that below which reads, Cut, Copy, Move to Trash, Delete, Refresh, Share and Properties. You can bring up the same dropdown menu by right-clicking anywhere on the file details.

12. Select Share. This brings up a screen which looks like the one below.

13. There are two tabs: File properties and Sharing. The File properties tab shows the properties of the file you wish to share – namely, its Name, the Folder it came from, its Owner, which is usually yourself, and the date and time it was last modified.
14. Select Sharing tab. If you have already shared a version of the document, this will bring up a list of all the groups and individual users with whom you have already shared it. If you have not shared it before, it will show only your own name. and you will need to use the Add Group or Add User tabs in the bottom left corner of the box to add a group of users or an individual user.

15. To add a group, click on Add Group. This brings up a screen like the one below.

Click on the dropdown to display all the groups to which you belong. Select the group which you wish to add by clicking on the name of that group in the dropdown. Click OK.

16. To add an individual user, click on Add User. This brings up a screen like the one below, which displays the names of all individual members of COOConnect which have chosen to disclose their identity.

17. Select the individual user you wish to share a document with and click OK.
18. Clicking OK brings you back to the box which displays the File properties and Sharing tabs, with a list of groups and individuals with whom you can now share documents, topped by your own name. Here, you can then select which individuals and groups with which you wish to share this particular document, and their level of access to it. They must always be allowed to View it so that level of access is selected automatically, but you can choose whether they should be able to Edit the file, Delete the file, or Modify Access to it. If you select Modify Access you make the recipient as complete an owner of the file as yourself: they can edit it, delete it and – most importantly – share it with third parties who may not be known to you. If you select Modify Access you effectively create multiple owners of a single file. That means anybody you share a document with can terminate the access of an individual or a group without reference to you. If you wanted them to be given access, you would have to add them back again as a group or individual user.

19. To cease to share a document with an individual or a group, click on the large red X against the name of the individual or the group.

20. To see files in Shared with me, it is sometimes necessary to open the sub-folders to find a document by clicking on the plus sign (+) to the left of the Shared by me tab.

The tool bar along the top of the Manage Documents section also include some useful tools. They are:

Create Folder. To create a new folder, click on My Folders and then click on Create Folder, and a box like the one below will appear.

Note: Create Folder will not open unless you click on My Folders first. Write the name of the new folder in the white space.

Upload. To upload a document, click on Upload. The default placement of the file is My Folders unless you select a folder first from the Folders displayed in the left hand column of the screen or listed in My Folders. The drop down allows you to choose between uploading a file by Upload File into the folder you have chosen or into the Google Documents associated with your Gmail account (if you have one).

NOTE: Similar functionality for Microsoft Outlook is in development.

If you select Upload file, a box like the one will appear.

You can use the browser to find the document by clicking on Browse. Once you select and open a file, the file name will appear automatically in the box labeled File Name. You can add a brief description in the space provided. This will appear in the Description column of My Documents on your MyCOOConnect homepage, as in the screen shot on the right-hand side.

Then click Save & Close, and the file will be stored in whichever folder or sub-folder you chose. If you wish to upload another file, click Save & Add Another.

Delete. This allows you to delete any file or folder you select. The Delete option automatically selects the folder you are in and offers from the dropdown the option X Selected Folder.

If you wish to delete a file only, select the file by clicking on any part of the file details except the box containing the name of the file (if you click on that, it opens the file, rather than selects it). Once you have selected a file, the Delete dropdown will also offer you X Selected File.

You can also delete a file by right-clicking on any part of it to bring up the drop down menu, from which you can select Delete. If you select Delete, you will be prompted by a message which reads as follows, 'Are you sure you want to permanently delete file [File Name]?' with an option to Cancel.

Options. This tab offers you other actions you can perform on any file or folder you select, including Re-name file (or folder), Copy file (or folder), Cut file (or folder), Move (file or folder) to Trash and Share (file or folder).

Re-name file and Re-name folder. To re-name a file or folder, select the file or folder, and click on Re-name file or Re-name folder from the drop down menu in Options or which appears when you right-click on a file or folder. When you click on Re-name file or Re-name folder a box like the one below appears.

Write the new name into the white box adjacent to the word Name, and the new name will appear automatically in the list of folders in the left hand column or in the list of files in the middle of the screen.

To copy a file or folder to another folder, select the file or folder and click on Copy File or Copy Folder from the Options or Action dropdown or select the file and right-click to bring up the drop down menu. Then select the folder where you wish to copy the file by clicking on the list of folders in the left hand column, and use the Paste option from the Options or Action dropdown or by right-clicking to bring up the drop down menu, and paste the file or folder into the folder you have selected.

To cut and paste a file to another folder, select the file, and click on Cut File or Cut Folder from the drop down menu. You can then Paste it into another folder you select.

Move to trash moves a file or folder to the trash, but does not delete the folder or file, so you can retrieve it later if you wish.

Search allows you to search for files or folders within Manage Documents by using the full name or description of the file or folder or part of the name or description of the file or folder. Write in the white box, and click on Search. File and folders that correspond to the words you have chosen will appear.

Refresh allows you to refresh the page.

4.2 Live Discussion

Live Discussion is a peer-to-peer live chat service for members of MyCOOConnect. It is open only to members of MyCOOConnect, and not to sponsors or members of expert panels, or indeed to anybody who is not a member of MyCOOConnect.

In order to join Live Discussion, click on Live Discussion on the tool bar. A page like the one below will appear.

There are three ways in which you can now participate in a Live Discussion:

1. Chat to another member. Once you enter Live Discussion, you will see members of COOConnect who have chosen to disclose their identities in the panel on the left side of the page. To start a chat with another member, simply select any member you want to chat with. If they are on-line, the green light to the left of their name will be illuminated. A tab with their name on it appears, as in the screen shot below

Write in the space at the bottom of the page, and press Enter on your keyboard. What you write appears in the form of a dialogue on the screen, as in a normal Chat service.

2. Chat on a particular topic within a live discussion group. To join a discussion group on a particular topic, click on the Live Discussions tab to see a list of current discussion groups. Click on the topic of your choice, write in the space at the bottom of the page, and press Enter on your keyboard.

3. Join a Live Chat. To join a live chat, click on the Live Chat tab, write in the space at the bottom of the page, and press Enter on your keyboard.

4.3 Expert Panels

Expert Panels are panels of experts in particular fields which have purchased the opportunity to answer questions put to them by members of MyCOOConnect. The questions and answers are visible to all members of MyCOOConnect, and the sponsors of a particular Expert Panel only. Sponsors of one Expert Panel are not allowed to view the discussions on other Expert Panels, but members of MyCOOConnect can see the discussions in all Expert Panels.

In expert panels, when you are chatting on a topic anonymity feature is turned on by default.

To ask a question of a member of an Expert Panel, click on Expert Panels in the tool bar. A page like the one below will appear.

1. To find an expert panel, look through the list of Expert Panels which appears on the screen by default, as in the screen shot above.
2. Click on the Expert Panel which you wish to question. The names and photographs of the experts appear on the left hand side of the page, adjacent to the threads of the previous questions.

Note: Many panels will have multiple experts on them

3. You can put your question to a particular member of an Expert Panel, or a sub-set of the members of an Expert Panel. To do this, simply click on the Ask your question in private tab next to the images of the individuals you wish to question. However, your question and the answers given will be visible even to members of the panel you do not select, and they may offer an answer even if you have not selected them to do so. The default mode, if you do not select particular individuals, is for the question to be sent to every member of the panel.
4. Members of Expert Panels who are logged in to the Expert Panel section of MyCOOConnect (the rest of the platform is closed to all but non-members) will have the green light adjacent to their name and photograph illuminated. This means they will see the question immediately, and can in theory respond to it immediately, but they will also receive it by e-mail in their Inbox. All questions and answers are stored as threads under the relevant Expert Panel, so members can read the full exchanges.

5. You can also ask your question from an offline expert(s) following the same steps as in 3. above. In this case, your question will be emailed to the expert(s) after 3 minutes of sending. If you choose to close the chat window immediately after sending your question, it will be emailed automatically straight away.
6. You will be seen as anonymous member to the expert(s) when communicating via Expert Panels.
